RACHEL CARSON & ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE IN NORTH CAROLINA

NOV. 13, 2019 * 1:30-3:30PM * FACULTY CENTER

ROBERT MUSIL, PH.D., M.P.H.
Dr. Musil is President & CEO of the Rachel Carson Council. He has held appointments to teach about American environmental politics, religious responses to global warming, climate change and security. From 1992-2006, Dr. Musil was Executive Director & CEO of Physicians for Social Responsibility.

Fighting against natural gas pipelines, factory farms, wood pellet production, and climate change are central to today’s fights for environmental justice both nationally and in North Carolina. All of these struggles grew out of Rachel Carson’s radical environmental ethic, which advocates care for the environment and human health.
